READING CHALLENGE SPARKS YOUNG MINDS AT SECONDARY WING

The Secondary Wing came alive with literary energy as Round 1 of the CBSE Reading Challenge unfolded on September 13, 2025 for Classes IX and X. Around 50 participants stepped up to the challenge, showcasing their quick thinking, sharp comprehension, and reading fluency in both Hindi and English. The competition was more than just a test of speed and understanding — it was a platform to ignite curiosity, enhance focus, and nurture critical 21st-century skills. Students not only strengthened their reading abilities but also gained the confidence to analyze, interpret, and express with clarity. This engaging experience left young participants inspired, proving that reading is not just about words on a page but a pathway to knowledge, creativity, and lifelong learning.

STRINGS OF TRADITION, BEATS OF CULTURE.

This artwork represents a traditional Indian folk music scene, celebrating cultural heritage, music, and togetherness.

The women are dressed in vibrant traditional attire, mostly in shades of red and yellow, symbolizing festivity and energy.

They are holding folk string instruments (ektara or veena-like) and playing them, showing devotion to music.

The overall composition, with multiple women engaged in music, reflects the collective spirit of folk traditions, especially those tied to festivals, rituals, or village gatherings.

The bright colors, rhythmic postures, and serene expressions convey joy, harmony, and cultural richness, often associated with Indian rural or tribal folk art traditions

TANVI NAGI ACTOR | ENTREPRENEUR

CEO AND CO-FOUNDER @buynimbarka

"From the classrooms of BCM to the spotlight of the film industry, our proud alumni has carved a niche as both an artist and entrepreneur. In this exclusive conversation, they share how school values shaped their journey of passion, resilience, and success."

1.Can you share with us your journey from BCM School to the film industry?

My journey from BCM to films has been full of adventure, resilience, and self-discovery. The values and confidence I gained at school gave me the courage to chase my passion for acting. Every step, whether struggle or success, shaped me into the artist and entrepreneur I am today. BCM provided a nurturing environment where I could explore my interests freely and develop my personality alongside academics.

2. How did your school years contribute to building the confidence and skills you use in the entertainment industry today?

BCM is the place where I first explored creativity through cultural events, competitions, and co-curricular activities. These opportunities helped me develop confidence, stage presence, and teamwork skills. The guidance of teachers and the supportive environment encouraged me to take risks, express myself, and learn from every experience—qualities that are invaluable in the entertainment industry.

3. BCM School has thrived under the guidance of Principal Mr. DP Guleria. How did his leadership and vision influence your growth and confidence during your school years?

Principal Mr. DP Guleria's leadership had a profound impact on me. His focus on holistic education—balancing academics, life skills, values, and cultural awareness—created an environment where students were encouraged to explore their potential fully. His guidance instilled discipline, resilience, and self-belief, giving me the confidence to chase my dreams while staying grounded.

4. Morning ssemblies, especially the Hawan, are an important part of BCM's culture. How did these practices influence your personal values and mindset?

The morning Hawan assemblies gave me a sense of calm, positivity, and spiritual grounding. Starting the day with reflection and gratitude taught me discipline and inner focus. These values helped me stay centered during challenges and guided my approach to life and career, ensuring I remained rooted in ethics and culture while pursuing modern aspirations.

5. BCM emphasizes holistic education, combining academics, life skills, and cultural values. How did this prepare you for the challenges of the film industry?

Holistic education at BCM taught me time management, teamwork, empathy, and resilience—skills essential for a competitive field like the film industry. Cultural events and value-based learning helped me adapt to different situations, express myself confidently, and maintain a strong moral foundation. These lessons from school continue to guide me in balancing creativity with professionalism.

6.What advice would you give to BCM students who aspire to pursue careers in creative industries like acting, music, or filmmaking?

Dream big, stay disciplined, and work consistently. Embrace challenges and learn from every experience. The values and life skills you gain at BCM—discipline from morning assemblies, ethical grounding, and encouragement from teachers—will always be your foundation. Stay rooted in these principles while exploring your passions, and opportunities will naturally follow.
