BCM SCHOOL'S "EK PED MAA KE NAAM" – A GREEN TRIBUTE TO MOTHERS

BCM School, Chandigarh Road, hosted an inspiring event under the campaign “Ek Ped Maa Ke Naam,” blending environmental responsibility with a heartfelt tribute to mothers.

The celebration began with a graceful welcome dance, a thought-provoking play, an insightful documentary, and engaging presentations on environmental conservation. A major highlight of the day was a drone display presented by the school’s Drone Club, where a drone carried a welcome poster, adding a unique charm as it warmly greeted the chief guest and the audience.

Chief Guest Rajesh Gulati, District Forest Officer, appreciated the initiative, emphasizing the importance of planting trees in the name of mothers as a lasting gesture of love and care. Nearly 300 mothers were honored with saplings, while the Forest Department contributed additional plants to support the cause.

An inspiring moment of the event was the presentation by Class 9 student Jasnoor, who showcased her pilot project, “Phycoremediation – A Water Saviour.” Guided by her father, Mr. Harpreet Singh, Jasnoor demonstrated how algae can effectively purify polluted water, successfully reviving water samples from Buddha Nallah. Her innovative approach impressed the audience and encouraged students to adopt sustainable solutions for environmental challenges.

Principal D.P. Guleria expressed his gratitude to the chief guest, Eco Club, students, and teachers, highlighting that such initiatives foster environmental awareness and strengthen the bond between nature, families, and future generations.

The event stood as a beautiful blend of love for mothers and responsibility towards Mother Earth, leaving a lasting impact on everyone present.
