1. How do you think your journey at BCM School contributed to building the confidence and communication skills that are now the foundation of Social Bumble?

My journey as an ex-student of BCM School has had a lasting impact on who I am today and has greatly contributed to building the confidence and communication skills that form the foundation of Social Bumble. Looking back, I realize that BCM wasn't just a school for me it was the place where my creative voice truly found direction.

BCM gave me the platform and encouragement to use my camera as a tool for change to highlight issues, inspire others, and give a voice to those who often go unheard. I also owe a lot to my Principal, who always reminded us to help the needy and contribute positively to society. Those words stayed with me even after I passed out, and now through Social Bumble, I continue to live by that message by creating content that inspires, spreads awareness, and helps others raise their voices.

2. BCM School emphasizes holistic development beyond academics — what values or life lessons from your school days continue to guide you in your entrepreneurial journey today?

One of the most important values BCM taught me was to use my talent for a greater purpose. Through various opportunities in videography and cinematography, I realized the power of storytelling how visuals can move people, create awareness, and inspire change. That very lesson became the heart of Social Bumble, where I now use my skills to give a voice to those who need to be heard and to bring real stories to the spotlight.

My teachers at BCM taught me confidence, teamwork, and discipline qualities that guide me even today. I'm especially grateful to Sanskriti Verma Mam, who always supported me, listened to my ideas, and helped me polish my creative vision.

3. How has the visionary leadership of Principal Mr. D.P. Guleria influenced or inspired you in shaping your own leadership style as a founder?

The visionary leadership of Principal Mr. D.P. Guleria has deeply inspired my journey as the founder of Social Bumble. Once an introverted student, I'm now someone who confidently encourages others to express their thoughts and ideas a transformation that began under his guidance. Sir often invited motivational speakers and teachers, which helped me gain confidence and believe in myself. His emphasis on compassion, purpose, and confidence continues to shape my leadership style today. I'm truly grateful to Mr. Guleria Sir for inspiring me to become a better person and a leader who helps others find their voice.

4. What message would you like to share with current BCMites who aspire to follow their passion and make a mark in creative or entrepreneurial fields like you did?

To all the BMites enjoy every moment of your school life at BCM!

This is where creativity begins and confidence grows. Believe in your dreams, express yourself freely, and never hesitate to explore your passions.

Every big dream starts with a single step and a lot of courage. Don't be afraid to experiment, fail, and learn; each experience shapes you into something stronger. The creative and supportive environment at BCM gives you the perfect foundation — use it to explore, collaborate, and express yourself freely. Most importantly, stay authentic to your vision and values; success naturally follows those who pursue their dreams with sincerity and perseverance.
